In these Sales Terms, capitalized terms will have the meaning set out in the approved sales form or purchase order of which they form a part, or defined hereafter.

2. Scope of Application and conclusion of Sales Agreement

- 2.1 XSYS PREPRESS' quotations are not binding offers but must be seen as invitations to Customer to submit a binding offer. All orders by the Customer for the delivery of Equipment by XSYS PREPRESS, are subject to XSYS PREPRESS' duly signed written acceptance. Together with the approved sales form or purchase order, these Sales Terms constitute the Sales Agreement between XSYS PREPRESS and the Customer. These Sales Terms further apply to any subsequent sale and/or delivery of equipment by XSYS PREPRESS to the Customer. The applicability of any delivery and/or other terms and conditions of the Customer is expressly excluded.
- 2.2 The field staff of XSYS PREPRESS – including but not limited to XSYS PREPRESS sales representatives - is not authorized to represent XSYS PREPRESS, in particular not to conclude contracts and make binding promises concerning the Equipment to be delivered or other conditions.

- 3.1 All prices are in the currency indicated in the approved sales form or purchase order and exclusive of sales tax, value added tax (VAT), other government levies and out-of-pocket-expenses. The Customer must make all payments within thirty (30) days of the invoice date, except if otherwise stated in the approved sales form or purchase order. By default of which the Customer shall be due, without notice of default from XSYS PREPRESS being required, payment to XSYS PREPRESS of a moratorial interest at the statutory interest rate from the due date of the invoice, in addition to the main sum due. - 3.2 If, following a notice of default, the Customer still fails to pay an invoice, XSYS PREPRESS is entitled to payment of a conventional fixed compensation of 15% of the amount of the invoice, covering all administrative costs of recovery, without prejudice to XSYS PREPRESS' right to claim from the Customer the compensations provided by law for entering legal proceedings for the recovery of the Customer's debt.
- 3.3 In case of cancellation of an order for Equipment, for any reason by the Customer, the Customer agrees that the down payment (being 30% of the Total Purchase Price) shall remain payable by the Customer to XSYS PREPRESS, or, if already paid, kept by XSYS PREPRESS as minimal fixed damages for incurred costs, without prejudice to XSYS PREPRESS' right to full compensation or performance and/or any of its other rights.

4. Transportation

- 4.1 When the Equipment is ready to be shipped, XSYS PREPRESS shall so advise the Customer. XSYS PREPRESS will make reasonable efforts to meet the anticipated ship date or delivery date. However, all dates given by XSYS PREPRESS are only estimates (even if not so indicated) and the mere excess of an indicated ship and/or delivery date shall in no event constitute a breach or default of XSYS PREPRESS under the Sales Agreement. Even if the Parties have agreed a fatal term, XSYS PREPRESS will not be in default by excess of terms until the Customer has given written notice of default and reasonable occasion for repair. XSYS PREPRESS is not bound by any (delivery) terms, whether or not final, that cannot be met because of circumstances beyond XSYS PREPRESS' control or if the Parties have agreed on a change in the contents or scope of the Sales Agreement (additional work, change in specifications, etcetera). - 4.2 Unless otherwise agreed between the parties, the Equipment is sold under standard FCA (Incoterms 2020).
- 4.3 The Customer is obliged to handle and accept the delivery of the Equipment following the instructions of XSYS PREPRESS. If the Customer fails to do so and/or thereby or in any other way delays the shipment or delivery (whether or not resulting from any delayed payment by the Customer), the Customer will be in default without any notice thereto being required. Then, the Final Payment and any previous amount of the Total Purchase Price still outstanding will become due immediately as though transportation and delivery had occurred, while XSYS PREPRESS, may store the Equipment at the Customer's risk and expense.
- 4.4 The Customer shall strictly comply with all applicable export, import and re-export laws and regulations.

The Customer's obligations hereunder may be covered by the Customer's "blanket coverage" insurance policies. If the Customer fails to maintain such insurance, XSYS PREPRESS may obtain the same at the Customer's expense.
- 7.5 In the event the Customer fails to pay any amount due under the Sales Agreement or fails to perform any other obligation thereunder and does not cure such breach within seven days following a notice of default of XSYS PREPRESS, in addition to any remedy available under applicable law, XSYS PREPRESS shall have the right to exercise one or more of the following remedies: (a) suspend the performance of its own obligations under this Sales Agreement, (b) require the Customer to provide additional security for the fulfillment of its obligations under the Sales Agreement, (c) suspend the operation of the Equipment by using the software program to control and operate the Equipment (d) terminate the Sales Agreement with immediate effect and recover the Equipment in any way (i.e. including by way of entering any premises where the Equipment may be located and taking possession of it, for which the Customer hereby grants to XSYS PREPRESS full authority), in which case XSYS PREPRESS may at its sole discretion apply all prior payments made by the Customer as (partial) compensation for the use, depreciation and the costs of recovery of the Equipment, with a fixed minimum in the amount of the down payment; (e) require the Customer to assemble the Equipment for safe transportation and make it available to XSYS PREPRESS; (f) sell the Equipment, giving the Customer at least 15 days prior notice of such intended sale, and set off the proceeds thereof, less reasonable expenses made by XSYS PREPRESS in effecting such sale, against any amount due to XSYS PREPRESS by Customer.
